Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 23 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy on Friday, some brightness possible in the northeast later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry this evening with clear periods. Cloud and a little light and patchy rain will extend from the west overnight, some places staying dry. Brisk westerly winds. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
Cloudy with some a little light rain or drizzle, this mainly at first. Somewhat drier and brighter weather may develop in the north and east in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Some dry and bright weather over the weekend, winds strengthening on Sunday with some heavy rain in the afternoon. Bright start Monday, blustery showers later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.